

END SEMINARY WEEK SERIES THIS MORNING

"A minister's own life must reflect his message as a preacher of the Gospel," Dr. Robert J. McCracken, pastor of Riverside Church in New York City, said this morning in his final Zimmerman Foundation lecture on "Effective Preaching."

The Seminary Week series of lectures ended at noon today after a three-day schedule at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary. In his lecture this morning on the life of the minister, Dr. McCracken dealt first with his public life. Most Christian people, said Dr. McCracken, fail to relate their Christianity to their political life, economic life and other areas of their life's activities. But the Christian must relate his Christianity to all areas of his life, revolutionizing his practices in these areas if necessary. Thus, it is the responsibility of the minister to spell out the social implications of the Gospel for his community. The minister must interfere where wrong is being done. His job includes both the interpretation and commendation of the Gospel for the affairs of the community.

Concerning the minister's private life, the important point to remember is the what the minister is as important as anything he says or does, the speaker said. The minister's private life must be characterized by self-discipline. A lack of this affects both his character and his work. One of the biggest temptations of the minister is to fall into professionalism. The minister becomes professional when he thinks more of what is expected by others than of what he should be as a minister of the Gospel. A minister must always steer away from becoming nothing more than an organization secretary, he said.

DR. STEERE SPEAKS
Dr. Douglas V. Steere, chairman of the Philosophy department man of the philosophy department for Seminary Week, gave his third lecture this morning at 9 o'clock on "The Dialogue of Prayer and Action."

"Prayer," he said, "is a refining fire for our prejudices, priorities and the many invisible lines that we have drawn around our lives. In prayer, man's reservations are brushed away. Rarely does the man of prayer throw in the sponge. There is an ethical sharpening found in prayer which sets the man of prayer against wrongs."

"WITH YOUR HELP"

With your help I can go forward . . . but without you I am lost . . . you have warm and tender feeling . . . that can melt life's chilling frost . . . with your smile to light the darkness . . . I can always make my way . . . but without it I would wander . . . in a quandary every day . . . with your lips to gently kiss me . . . I can do the things I must . . . but without them all my dreaming . . . would be just a cloud of dust . . . and with your two arms around me . . . I have faith to follow through . . . for you have a magic way, dear . . . of making the dark skies blue . . . and my heart is always eager . . . to caress and have you near . . . I'll be equal to all things, love . . . that is with your help, my dear.

when one of the upstate judges decides to hold a session there. The attorneys agreed that traveling to Scranton or Lewisburg to attend sessions of Middle District Court or pretrial conferences or conduct other business with the judges is "an inconvenience that is unnecessary."

CITE INCONVENIENCE

The attorneys noted they are not the only ones inconvenienced and put to more expense than needed. Defendants and witnesses also have to travel great distances to trials in the upper part of the state and it was noted that several county men on probation from sentences given in Middle District Court have to go to Scranton to make regular reports to the probation officer.

With an appointment to be made soon of a Middle District judge, the bar associations of the Harrisburg area counties are asking that the judge be appointed from their area so the judge will have his office at Harrisburg and hold court there.

The bar associations are sending copies of their resolution to the President, the U.S. attorney general, the governor of Pennsylvania and the members of Congress and the Senate.

WANT MORE FACTS

Another resolution, directed to the state legislature, asks laws requiring that the state, counties, townships, etc., which condemn land put the details on record, including the names of the persons from whom the land is taken, and a description of the land taken, at the register and recorder's office in the county where the land is condemned. At present no such records are required and the attorneys noted that a deed to a property might show 80 acres of land, while 40 had been removed for a road, yet there would be nothing on the records to show the removal of the land. With the great number of new roads being constructed and the large amount of land required for the roads and their approaches and rights of ways, the need for filing such information is becoming increasingly more important, it was pointed out.

A film "Trial by Jury" secured by the county bar association in connection with "Law Day—USA" and shown to several organizations in the county, will be available to any group wishing to see it during May, according to a report at the meeting. Organizations wishing to see the film should contact Attorney S. M. Raffensperger.

The president, Attorney Donald G. Oyler, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Longstreet

street, fighter for things in which she believed, Southern beauty and World War II airplane factory worker, is dead at 99.

She had hoped to reach 100 but the end came quietly Thursday in Milledgeville State Hospital.

Mrs. Longstreet never liked to talk about her age, but her niece and only survivor, Mrs. R. H. Rumph of Atlanta, said she was born in Carnesville, Ga., April 20, 1863.

In failing health for 10 years, she entered the state mental hospital in 1957. Doctors described her case as mild and said she seemed perfectly happy.

MARRIED IN 1897

Mrs. Longstreet attended Breau College at Gainesville, Ga., and there met Longstreet's daughter by his first wife, Marie Louise Garland who died in 1889.

On Sept. 8, 1897, she married Longstreet at the old governor's mansion in Atlanta. He was 76 and she 34.

Her greatest fight was a battle to clear her husband "of any accusation wrongfully made against him that he failed to carry out Lee's orders at Gettysburg." She contended he had been cautious, nothing more.

Longstreet was second in command to Lee of the army of Northern Virginia. He was described as immovable in the battles of Williamsburg, First Manassas, Second Manassas and Antietam. But a show of caution at Gettysburg drew the charge that he had ignored orders.

"VIRTUAL DISGRACE"

He fell into virtual disgrace among Southerners when he applied for a job with his cousin by marriage, Ulysses S. Grant.

It was after the general's death in 1904 that Mrs. Longstreet began a career which included the holding of more jobs than she could remember in later years. She was at one time a newspaper reporter, a freelance writer on politics, the postmistress of Gainesville, Ga., a Veterans Bureau employee, and a riveter in a B29 bomber plant.

Her employment during World War II as a riveter at the Bell bomber plant at Marietta, Ga., created a storm of protest by union organizers who called it a publicity stunt.

But she stuck to the job for nearly two years and a sub foreman described her work as ranking with the best done in the plant.

"It rained people," said one man who lived near the wreck. Tadashi Miyano, who lived below the embankment, rushed outside when he heard the first crash.

Japan's worst postwar train disaster occurred in February 1947, when 184 persons were killed and 497 injured in a derailment outside Tokyo. The worst train wreck on record, in the Alps in 1917, involved a French troop train and 600 or more persons were killed.

Critically Hurt When Car Crashes

Edgar P. Long, 56, Harrisburg R. 1, was removed to the Warner Hospital in the Littlestown ambulance about 7:30 Wednesday night suffering serious multiple injuries after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel and his car struck a tree on U. S. 140, about 300 feet from the state line in Carroll County.

His condition today was listed as critical. He is suffering from a broken nose, broken ribs, internal injuries, possible head injuries and a broken left leg.

Trooper H. L. Zepp, Westminster Barracks, Maryland State police, stated that Long was traveling west on Route 140 when his car ran across the highway and smashed into a tree, demolishing his 1962 model car, which was owned by Harrisburg Teamsters Local 776. The investigation is being continued and charges are pending.

CAR ROLLS OVER

The car of Ralph Gordon, Littlestown, ran onto the berm and rolled over on the Gettysburg-Littlestown Rd. a short distance north of Littlestown this morning. No one was injured. The car was demolished.

Chambersburg High School's baseball team assured itself of at least a tie for first place in the South Penn Baseball League by scoring early and hanging on to defeat the Gettysburg High Warriors 7-5 here Thursday afternoon.

The Trojans, defending league champs, rapped Larry Eckert for 10 hits and seven tallies in the first two and two-third innings before Tom Duane came on to pitch scoreless relief but the damage had been done.

Successive hits by Mull, Bum-baugh, Witter and Forbes, plus two miscues, gave Chambersburg three runs in the first inning. A single by Overcash, double by Eschelman and safeties by McNew and Wauls added two more Chambersburg runs in the second. In the third Chambersburg boosted its lead to 7-0 with two more runs on singles by Forbes and Walters, an error and a single by Eschelman. That brought on Duane who retired McNew for the final out.

WARRIORS SCORE
Gettysburg scored twice in the third. John Longenecker was safe on an error and Jim Davies walked. Duane singled and Dennis Breighner doubled to drive home the runs.

Doubles by Duane and Tom Collins and a single by Dick Crist accounted for two more Warrior runs in the fifth.

The Warriors finally knocked Eschelman from the box on a rally in the seventh with Jack Muil moving from catcher to the pitching mound to squelch the threat. Crist walked and Plank singled. Nelson followed with a single to send Crist home but the next two batters were retired.

The Warriors, now 3-3 overall, play at Waynesboro on Monday.

PLANELOAD OF GIANTS FORCED DOWN IN UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The San Francisco Giants won a pair Thursday—one on the ground and one in the air.

Jack Sanford went all the way as the National League leading Giants beat Pittsburgh 8-4 at Candlestick Park.

C. C. (Jack) Bridgman of San Mateo, Calif., went all the way for the Giants Thursday night when their airplane lost an engine in the air over Utah, en route to Chicago.

Neither Sanford nor Bridgman needed any relief, either.

LAND SAFETY
Southpaw pitcher Mike McCormick was on hand for Bridgman, the United Air Lines captain who was flying the four-engine DC7.

"I didn't have a worry," Mike said, "because Jack was up forward. He's one of my neighbors and his daughter is our most competent baby sitter."

Jack Bridgman is a competent pilot, too. He brought in the crippled plane to the Salt Lake Airport without any trouble.

CHANGE PLANES
A power failure knocked out one of the four engines. Bridgman feathered the propeller and made a safe landing 20 minutes later.

There were 24 San Francisco players on board, manager Al Dark, three coaches, a club trainer, clubhouse manager, secretary and statistician; five news-men and a plane crew of five.

United sent another DC7 from Denver to Salt Lake City and the passengers flew on to Chicago, arriving at 4:16 a.m. (CDT).

The New York Yankees played errorless ball in 84 games during the 1961 season, an American League record.

CHISOX HALT YANK SKEIN; ORIOLES LOSE

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Buzhardt, streak-snapper, also is quite a show-stopper. The Chicago White Sox right-hander stopped the show Thursday night, baffling the New York Yankees for a 1-0, five victory and adding to his reputation as a streak-breaker by cutting off the American League leaders' victory string at seven games.

Buzhardt, 25, whose major achievement in four previous seasons had been the triumph that snapped Philadelphia's 23-game losing skein during the 1961 campaign, brought his record to 4-1 with his fourth consecutive win for the White Sox.

While Buzhardt was blanking the Yanks and lowering his earned run average for the fourth game to a remarkable 1.32, the White Sox managed only six hits off Whitey Ford and Marshall Bridges. But Jim Landis accounted for the game-winner with his sixth homer, in the fourth inning.

Elsewhere in the AL, Norm Siebern's foul fly drove in the winning run as Kansas City knocked off Detroit 6-4. Don Mincher's grand slam home carried Minnesota to an 8-4 decision over Baltimore and Boston ended a five-game losing string by beating Washington 7-4. Cleveland and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

Buzhardt struck out three, walked only one and had little trouble with the Yankees powerful line-up except for rookie shortstop Tom Tresh, who stroked a single and double. Buzhardt also snapped another streak by ending Bobby Richardson's 17-game hitting string. Ford (2-1) allowed four hits in seven innings and Bridges permitted two.

Siebern, who got the A's rolling with a two-run homer in the first, knocked in another run in the fifth with a single before delivering a long foul in the seventh that snapped a 4-4 tie when Bobby Del-Greco scampered home from third after the catch. The win went to Diego Segui (2-0). Rookie Doug Gallagher (0-2) lost it despite home runs by Norm Cash and Billy Bruton.

2ND GRAND SLAM
Mincher's second grand slam of the season shot the Twins into the lead in the first inning. But they needed another four-run uprising in the third—on Bernie Allen's three-run homer and a circuit shot by pitcher Jack Kralick—to subdue the Orioles Kralick (1-2), tagged for a homer by Gus Triandos, won it with Ray Moore's one-inning relief. Milt Pappas (2-1) took the loss.

Home runs by Ed Bressoud and Jim Pagliaroni plus three runs batted in by Pete Runnels with three singles paced the Red Sox against the Senators, who lost their 14th in 15 games. Bill Monbouquette (2-2) needed Dick Radatz' ninth relief held to nail the victory. The loser was rookie Jim Hannon (0-2).

Bermudian clinched at least a tie for first place in the Adams County Baseball League by defeating Fairfield, defending champion, 11-0 Thursday at Fairfield. The Eagles, who have now won nine straight, need but one win in their final two league games to sew up the 1962 championship.

Charley Gembe, Bermudian hurler, turned in a fine three-hit performance in pitching his team to victory. Meanwhile he was backed by an 11-hit offense including a trio of singles by Paul McCauslin and a double and triple by Dave Bricker.

Bermudian iced the game in the top of the fifth with five runs. Tom Wolf was safe on an error and Gembe walked. Sam Bricker singled Wolf home. Craig Hoke walked and McCauslin singled. Gembe and Bricker scored. Hoke was picked off third base but Ken Groupe singled and Louis Kootz walked to fill the bases. Dave Bricker then doubled home McCauslin and Groupe.

BOLTS HIT HARD
Littletown pounded out 14 hits to rout New Oxford 12-6 on the latter's field. Eddie Kootz smashed three hits and knocked in four runs as the Bolts lifted their overall record to 3-4.

New Oxford, dropping its sixth decision in as many starts, was held to four safeties. Jordan Wentz poling a double and single in leading the attack.

"Grow In Grace And Knowledge Of Our Lord"

I BELIEVE IN THE FORGIVENESS OF SIN
By Rev. Lena Parr, Pastor
St. Paul AME Zion Church

Text: "This one thing I do forgetting those things which are behind" Phil 3:13. Many of us this day approach this topic of sin and forgiveness. We ask the question what is sin and what is forgiveness, how is it granted and from whom does it come? The problem of what to do about our past is a serious one, since we do not, like animals, live only in the present. The past stays with us in habits, in our consciousness of remembering guilt, in our tendency to repeat the same sin. Our past experiences are in our blood and the future judgement is also with us. We drag our past with us and we are burdened with worries about the eternal future.

If anyone think that they are not a sinner then let them try to be really good. It is then that we find out how sinful and bad we are. One tests not the current of a river by flowing with it but by fighting it. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God."

CAN'T FORGET SINS
When we think of Paul's words in our text, "This one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind," we must realize that Paul is not here saying that all we need to do about our sins is to forget them. God must deal with them in his forgiveness and mercy. Neither is Paul trying to say that we never profit from the past for we all receive a valuable lesson from past experiences. Paul, who suggested that we learn to forget, encourages us to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." Then our past can be forgiven and truly we can have a real future. All have sinned. Again the scripture says "If any man says he has not sinned he lies; he deceives himself and the truth is not in him." They never tone it down by calling it a "blunder" or a "mistake." Sin is that, they say, of which every last individual must be saved; or refusing the saving grace of God in Christ, be lost. Sometimes after sinning we feel that God simply cannot forgive sin as great as ours. God knew that we would be so overcome with guilty feelings and remorse that we would find it difficult to accept His forgiveness. That is why He filled the Bible with reassurance. David assures us in Psalm 103: "As far as the east is from the west, so far has He removed His transgression from us."

WILLING TO FORGIVE
"Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." No sin is so red that it cannot be washed pure white by Christ. Isaiah speaks in confidence to God: "Thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back." If God throws our sin behind Him, where He can no longer see it, then we should forget about it. Jeremiah says, "Inspired of God, I shall forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sins no more." If God does not remember your forgiven sin, why should we fret about it?

You know that we cannot be forgiven by God until we are willing to forgive. Do we pray in the Lord's Prayer, "... forgive us our trespasses AS WE FORGIVE those who trespass against faith."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Clearance, weather information, assigned altitudes and airways, landing instructions... we take these for granted. We simply fly from point to point, our progress and safety undergirded by an intricate web of scientific communication.

Perhaps that's why, today, so many assume that some celestial system ought to assure everyone comfort, success and happiness.

But the control tower can operate only because every pilot respects its purpose and has faith in its instructions.

Our moral progress and our spiritual security are the constant concern of the Church. Its worship and guidance undergird the lives of all who respect its Purpose, and have faith in the truths of God which it teaches.

11 MINISTERS ADMITTED TO EUB CHURCH

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Eleven new ministers were admitted Wednesday to the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Granted permanent ministerial licenses were Leroy W. Flohr, Bryansville Church, Delta; Jerry A. Cline, Trinity Church, Jersey Shore; Darrell G. Frey, First Church, Milton; Paul F. Jacobs, Castanea Church, Lock Haven; and Ralph W. Marks Jr., Northumberland.

John E. Lehr of York and Charles Snyder of Jersey Shore were granted temporary certificates.

The following ministers were accepted from other denominations: Elwood Holloper of the Methodist Church; Luke J. Brinker and Robert P. Mitchell of the Nazarene Church in Philadelphia; and Howard Lindway of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

TWO TRANSFER

The action came during the second day of the conference's 155th annual meeting in York.

Two other EUB ministers were granted transfers to other denominations, while a third minister was retired voluntarily.

Conference delegates also voted in favor of increasing pastoral salaries from $4,000 to $4,200 a year. Granted transfers to the United Church of Christ were John E. Snook of Lock Haven, and Eugene

Young Skin Diver Drowns In Juniata

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 17-year-old skin diver drowned in the Juniata River Wednesday while aiding in the search for a 32-year-old Army technician missing since Monday night.

The victim, John Blewett Jr. of Lewistown apparently was caught in a strong current which prevented him from surfacing after the air ran out in his underwater breathing equipment, officers said.

Police, firemen and Civil Defense workers began dragging the Juniata Tuesday morning in search of David I. Briner, 32, of Lewistown.

Stewart E. Lauer Rites On Saturday

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Funeral services will be held in York Saturday for Stewart E. Lauer, prominent industrialist and long-time official of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Lauer, former head of the York Corp., and later the York Division of the Borg-Warner Corp., died Wednesday at York Hospital. He was 72.

His survivors include a widow, one son, a daughter, a brother and six grandchildren.

YELLOW TAGS POPULAR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tagging fish helps biologists make distribution and growth studies. Fish-tagging programs have been handicapped because tagged fish often go unnoticed when caught in nets. The Fish and Wildlife Service says bright yellow tags have been five times as effective as dark green. No scarlet tags have been recovered.

CHICAGO (AP)—This city has the largest membership in the American Bowling Congress with 36,250 registered pinmen. Detroit is next with 32,088, followed by New York with 26,860 and Los Angeles with 20,865. Philadelphia is fifth with 16,899.

MANY EMMY AWARDS TO BE GIVEN AWAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—What kind of a yardstick can be used to decide whether "The Judy Garland Show," "Victoria Regina" or "Biography of a Bookie Joint" was the better television program?

Is it fair to judge the performances of Carol Burnett on "The Gary Moore Show" and Perry Como in the same terms and in the same category with Judy Garland, Edie Adams and Yves Montand who starred in one-shot variety specials?

Who gets the short end when voters must say whether the best television drama of the season was a series ("Ben Casey," "The Defenders," "The Dick Powell Show"), one program in an anthology series ("People Need People" in "Premiere") or an adaptation of a Broadway hit, "Victoria Regina"?

EMMY NOMINATIONS

The above are among the nominations for "Emmys," the little statuettes which are television's equivalent of motion pictures' "Oscars." Five nominees have been made in each of 27 different categories—result of a massive effort to reduce the total number. But the big problem—pitting programs and performers of widely varying types against each other—still remains to be solved.

Between now and May 22—when the "Emmy Show" will be presented on NBC—the 6,000 members of National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences will be balloting for the winners.

But to take the "the program of the year" category for an example, how can one say that "The Judy Garland Show," however great, was superior to "Biography of a Bookie Joint?" One was a brilliant hour of variety and singing. The other was a fine example of journalistic enterprise.

Perhaps some day the knotty awards situation can be untangled. But until then, the presentation ceremonies will continue to be—no matter how long-winded and downright dull—among the most popular programs aired. Last month's "Oscar" awards program, in spite of being a two-hour yawn, turned up at the top of the most recent Nielsen rating, far outdistancing its closest competitor in the size of the audience it attracted.

SAYS BOARDS WASTE MONEY ON FINANCING

HARRISBURG — Elliott Falk, executive director of the State Public School Building Authority, today urged school boards to thoroughly investigate the financing alternatives available to them in carrying out their school construction programs. Falk criticized those school boards which choose the local municipal authority type of financing when it would be "less costly" to use the state authority method of financing.

Acknowledging situations where school districts will find it more advantageous to use local municipal authority financing, Falk cited examples in which failure to investigate state authority rates had proven a costly mistake. "The result of ill-considered financial planning," he said "can be measured in the thousands and thousands of extra dollars that taxpayers are required to pay for their school facilities, year after year, until the excessively high debt is paid off."

He referred to one case where a school board had been guaranteed a 4 per cent interest rate by the state authority but had financed its project under a local municipal authority bond issue with an interest rate of 5.22 per cent. Falk alleged that this action resulted in the taxpayers of that district paying "in excess of $600,000 and possibly as much as $1,000,000 extra."

Falk spoke Tuesday at dedication ceremonies for the new Forest City High School, Susquehanna County, and commended the Forest City Joint School Board for having had "the foresight to look carefully into both state authority financing and local municipal authority financing before making its decision to choose the state authority."

AEC, Light Firm To Extend Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission and Duquesne Light Co. have extended their contract for operation of the Shippingport Atomic Power station, the nation's first commercial atomic power plant.

The agreement, announced Thursday, extends the current pact from Dec. 18, 1962, to early 1964 when another five-year extension will take effect.

From December 1957, when it began operations until May 2, 1962, the plant produced 1,157,000 kilowatt hours for the Duquesne Light Co. enough to supply 100,000 homes with electricity for four years. It became the first atomic plant to surpass the one billion KWH mark.

Estranged Mother Of Four, On Relief, Faces Probe For Her Generosity To Needy

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Charlotte Peters, 22, of Des Moines, didn't put enough packing around the sack of pinto beans and the bags of cornmeal and rice she mailed to a friend's elderly mother in Tampa, Fla.

Somewhere in transit the first week in April the sack of beans broke open where Tampa Postmaster J. R. Douglas could see it.

Now, the mother of a 4-year-old son, estranged from her husband and on relief, is enmeshed in the long arm of government. The package contained surplus food labeled "for distribution to needy families, not to be sold or exchanged."

CHAIN OF LETTER

Douglas wrote to the U.S. postal inspector at Atlanta, Ga. He wrote to the postal inspector at St. Louis. The St. Louis inspector wrote to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The Agriculture Department sent a letter to the Iowa Welfare Department in Des Moines.

"It is imperative that a thorough investigation be made to establish the responsibility therefor, and to obtain restitution for the value of commodities so diverted," said the Agriculture Department letter.

Mrs. Peters receives state payments as aid to dependent children, making her automatically eligible to receive free food commodities.

TOO MUCH FOOD
"I couldn't possibly use all the beans, rice and cornmeal, and rather than have the weevils get the food I tried to help someone who needed it," she explained.

Mrs. Peters said the package cost her $5 in postage.

"We don't feel it was an attempt to defraud the government because postage probably cost her more than the food was worth," said R. H. Whitlatch, Iowa welfare director. "But it was a misappropriation. We might have to suspend her from the commodity distribution list for a time."

The Tampa postmaster said similar packages to the same addressee had been observed before but Mrs. Peters denied sending more than one.

She said she thinks the post office down there is awfully meddlesome.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A battalion of the U.S. Army's crack 27th Infantry Wolfhound Regiment will join Thai troops for maneuvers in jungle warfare during the next week, an American military spokesman said.

The Wolfhounds, one of the toughest American fighting units in the Korean War, participated in last week's Southeast Asia Treaty Organization ground-air exercise.

The spokesman said it was decided to keep the Hawaii-based troops here for another two weeks for an exchange of ideas with the Thais. The Wolfhounds have built up a reputation as experts in jungle warfare.

BERLIN (AP)—East German border guards fired two shots at a refugee sliding down a rope during the night, West Berlin police reported Thursday.

The two shots missed and the refugee, a 19-year-old construction worker, slid from the roof of a five-story building on the East-West border to safety in the West. He was treated for scratches and bruises.

MOSCOW (AP)—A top Soviet commentator said Thursday the West must recognize the Communist East German regime as the sovereign master of all routes to West Berlin—ground and air—to reach an agreement on free access to the isolated city. He added that Western troops must also withdraw from Berlin.

Writing in the Communist party organ Pravda under the name

"Observer"—usually adopted to give the official Soviet view—the commentator restated previous Soviet reaction to the U.S. suggestion for an international authority to supervise the access routes to Berlin.

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Central Meteorological Agency announced Thursday it could not detect any signs of atmospheric disturbances caused by the third U.S. nuclear explosion.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported the device—biggest in current Pacific series—was dropped from a plane Wednesday.

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—When the manager of a baseball team in a league for young boys told one of his players to take over third base, the little fellow ran to his father at the fence and asked in a whisper, "Which base is third?"

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Morris Mittel of York reported to police Wednesday that burglars broke into a vacant house he owned and took the kitchen sink but nothing else.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The South Viet Nam government, in its briefest military communiqué in months, said Thursday that "enemy activities appear to have abated in recent days."

The report claimed 10 Communist guerrillas were killed Monday about 20 miles southwest of Saigon in a mopping up operation.

YORK MAN IS DIRECTOR OF STATE BUREAU

HARRISBURG (AP)—James A. Holtzer of York took over Thursday as new director of the State Elections Bureau, replacing 64-year-old Albert E. Eberman, fired Wednesday after 24 years of service.

Eberman, a registered Republican, was dismissed from the $9,454-a-year post by Commonwealth Secretary E. James Trimarchi Jr.

"After reviewing the workload necessary to getting all details ready for the fall election, I decided it was necessary to make the change in the bureau immediately so that a new director may have a chance to get acquainted with the job," Trimarchi explained.

NO COMMENT

It was only last week that Eberman submitted a letter of resignation to Trimarchi, effective July 2. He had no immediate comment on his dismissal.

Holtzer, 26, a Democrat, is a graduate of George Washington University. He is expected to be admitted to the Pennsylvania bar next week.

Married and the father of two children, Holtzer had been serving as assistant director of the state's Corporations Bureau since December, 1960. The new appointment carries a $2,047-a-year salary increase.

Trimarchi said Eberman's retirement compensation would not be affected by his dismissal.

Aluminum Company To Start Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Aluminum Co. of America (Alcoa) will start negotiations on new labor contracts in New York City with the United Steelworkers Union May 15 and the Aluminum Workers International Union the following day.

The current contracts with both unions run out July 31. Alcoa announced the forthcoming talks Thursday.

The USW represents some 12,000 workers in 12 plants, while the Aluminum Workers International speaks for about 8,000 workers in 10 plants.

"This move is being made only after a complete review of Eberman's retirement record, and after it was learned that his date of separation from state government would not affect his retirement compensation," Trimarchi declared.

WAS CRITICIZED

Hints that Eberman might be on his way out first developed last March when Gov. Lawrence criticized his handling of the Elections Bureau during the period for filing nominating petitions.

At the time of the governor's statement, the bureau was still struggling under a deluge of more than 1,000 petitions filed for state offices.

Eberman closed his office on the last night for filing, before completing the listing of all the candidates.

"He should have stayed there until every last bit of information had been given to the press," the governor told a news conference shortly thereafter. "I will do something about it," he added.

CANADA CUTS DOLLAR VALUE

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada devalued its dollar Wednesday night and pegged it at 92½ U.S. cents to give a boost to exports and ease the nation's chronic foreign trade deficit.

The president of the Canadian Manufacturing Association said he was delighted with the export boost but expressed surprise at the new rate, the lowest since Canada adopted a free, floating exchange rate in September 1950.

The Canadian dollar had sold at 95½ cents on the exchanges for the past two months.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming said in a statement announcing the new rate the government had taken progressive steps to bring the exchange rate down. The Canadian dollar in August 1957 was worth $1.06½ in U.S. currency.

The drop in the rate is expected to give a strong boost to export earnings and to discourage import buying by raising import prices in terms of Canadian dollars.

It will mean, among other things, costlier vacation trips in the United States for Canadians

97 Legislators Facing Opposition In Primary

By FRED WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—Ninety-seven legislators—including House Speaker H. G. Andrews and former Speaker W. Stuart Helm—have contests to hurdle in the May 15 primary.

Andrews, 84-year-old veteran from Johnstown who is rounding out his sixth year as the House's presiding officer and his 24th year in the General Assembly, has two opponents for the Democratic nomination in Cambria County's First Legislative District.

His prospects for renomination have been described as doubtful in some quarters and safe in another. Andrews, himself, who came to the legislature as an independent in the 1932 election, has said he feels he may have lost touch with a new generation in his district that may have forgotten him as his increasing responsibilities have kept him away from home longer and longer.

6 FOR 2 POSTS

Helm, the last GOP speaker in the House (1957-58), is one of six candidates for the two GOP nominations in Armstrong County. The other incumbent, W. Mack Guthrie, Republican, did not seek re-election.

Guthrie is one of 19 present House members not seeking a new term. Three of them, however, are seeking other offices. Candidates will be chosen May 15 to run for 210 seats at the Nov. 8 general election.

At present, the House is divided 109 Democrats to 101 Republicans. Democrats have held majorities in five of the last six sessions of the General Assembly.

Besides Andrews and Helm, other legislative leaders having primary contests include:

Walter T. Kamyk, chairman of the Pittsburgh Democratic delegation, in Allegheny County's 3rd District; Jules Filo, Democratic caucus secretary, Allegheny 14th; Lee A. Donaldson Jr., chairman of the House GOP Legislative Policy Committee, Allegheny 17th; Joshua Ellberg, chairman of the 39-member Philadelphia Democratic delegation, Philadelphia's 23rd District; J. Dean Polen, Democrat, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, 1st District of Washington County; and Anthony J. Petrosky, Westmoreland 2nd, chairman of the Democratic caucus.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY

In Allegheny County's 9th District, Richard W. Richards, lobbyist for Pittsburgh firemen, has entered the Democratic contest against incumbent Thomas F. Lamb. Wage increases for the city's firemen has been a big issue this year.

Another prominent lobbyist entered in the primaries is John F. Laudadio of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, who is in the Westmoreland 2nd District Democratic race against incumbents Petrosky and Barnet Sakulsky.

In Montgomery County's Third Legislative District, Wilmet E. Fleming of Jenkintown, chairman of a special committee of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association seeking repeal of the 1961 compulsory school reorganization law, is a candidate for one of the four GOP nominations.

HENTZEL BOWS OUT

Fleming has organization endorsement along with incumbents Herman B. Willaredt, Edwin G. Holl and Morton H. Fetterolf Jr., all Republicans.

The fourth incumbent, Evelyn G. Hentzel, Republican, did not seek re-election.

The 40-voice choir of Juniata College at Huntingdon, Pa., now in its 30th season, will present a concert Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren. Shown below is Donald S. Johnson, professor of music and college organist, under whose direction the choir will sing.

There are seven candidates for the two nominations. Interest in the fights involving Democratic leaders is spurred by the fact the party's floor leadership will be open next year.

Majority Leader Stephen McCann of Greene County is the Democratic organization candidate for lieutenant governor.

Republican Reps. Paige Varner, Clarion, and W. John Stiteler Jr., Somerset, are seeking Senate seats this year.

Varner was unopposed for the GOP nomination in the 26th Senatorial District (Clarion, Forest, Elk, Cameron and Clinton Counties) to succeed incumbent George B. Stevenson of Lock Haven, Republican, who is retiring.

Stiteler is fighting incumbent Stanley G. Stroup of Bedford for the GOP nomination in the 38th District (Somerset, Bedford and Fulton).

In Philadelphia, the Republican Alliance, an independent group, has entered 20 candidates against the GOP organization choices in 18 of the 31 legislative districts. Eight candidates—including the lone Republican incumbent, Austin M. Lee—were endorsed by both groups.

Arthur J. Wall, Pike County Republican and father of the well-known professional golfer, was the only candidate to file. A Democratic candidate may be nominated by write-in on May 15, of Wall may also get that party's nomination by write-in, which would mean virtually automatic election in November.

Pike is the only county where one of the major parties failed to have a candidate entered in the House primaries.

Other legislators, besides Guthrie and Mrs. Hentzel, who went into retirement this year included: Democrats Martin C. Mihm, Allegheny 11th; Arthur O. Guesman, Allegheny 16th; Peter G. Schaaf, Erie 1st; William J. Reidenbach, Lackawanna 1st; Joseph G. Tomascik, Luzerne 7th; Henry Cianfrani, Philadelphia 5th; Thomas J. McCormack, Philadelphia 19th; and Republicans Russel C. Keiser, Dauphin 2nd; D. Barry Gibbons, Rocco A. Odorisio, Delaware 3rd; R. P. Stimmel, Lehigh 1st; William K. Knecht, Schuylkill 2nd; Harold G. Wescott, Susquehanna, and Harry R. McInroy, Tioga.

PEYOTE RITE IS CALLED A PAGAN RITUAL

By BOB HARING

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Peyote is both a cactus and a religion—and a vestige of ancient Indian culture which still resists the white man's encroachment.

Few white men have ever seen a Peyote ceremony, but many have tried to eliminate the Indian religious practice which involves eating parts of the Peyote cactus.

Missionaries and others have denounced the Peyote ceremony as a pagan ritual.

But practitioners of Peyote deny this and they have some support from white men.

Dr. Sol Tax, a University of Chicago anthropologist and one of the few white men ever to attend a Peyote ritual, called it one of the most wonderful religious experiences he ever had. And a University of Oklahoma anthropologist, Dr. William E. Bittle, called Peyote a panacea to a large number of Indian ills.

139,000 FOLLOWERS

It is estimated that Peyote has 139,000 followers in this country and that 20,000 of Oklahoma's 190,000 Indians attend Peyote ceremonies.

The plant itself is a green, spineless cactus which resembles a small carrot. Peyote services usually are held on a Saturday night.

Worshippers usually number 12 to 24 persons. The leader takes a seat facing east. Others are seated on hay and blankets around the teepee.

A cedar fire burns in the middle of the area. A bowl of Peyote, tobacco and corn husks are brought in after the leader is seated. Then the boys bring cold drinking water and each participant drinks from a gourd, while the leader explains the purpose of the meet-

Veteran Actor Who Lost His Voice Through Cancer Has Speaking Parts Again

By ANDREW MEISELS

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the most that a man can lose? For a pianist, it's his hands. For an actor, it's his voice.

William Gargan, a veteran of 35 years on the stage, screen, radio and television, lost his voice, his livelihood and—he admits—even his hope, about a year ago.

But Gargan did not lose his courage, and today he can speak again; he has plans for re-entering the theater, and he is giving hope to others.

It was while appearing in "The Best Man," portraying a president of the United States who dies of cancer, that Gargan learned he had the dread disease. The cancer forced removal of his larynx—or voice box—and left the actor without the ability to speak.

DIDN'T GIVE UP

"God, why me?" Gargan recalls thinking. "Why my voice, which was my livelihood?"

But Gargan didn't give up. Five weeks after his operation, he began taking lessons sponsored by the American Cancer Society to learn how to speak through what is known as an esophageal voice.

Through this method, air is swallowed and then erupted from the bottom of the esophagus in a manner not unlike belching. As the air comes up, a muscle at the top of the throat is vibrated to make sound, and the words are formed in the normal manner.

Gargan appeared Wednesday before a group of 14 men and women at the National Hospital for Speech Disorders.

VOICE IS AUDIBLE

The face was the same that had appeared in scores of movies beginning with "Rain," opposite Joan Crawford. It had been seen weekly on television playing "Martin Kane—Private Eye." The voice, of course, was different, but it was audible and perfectly understandable.

The men and women in the room were, like Gargan and 20,000 others in the nation, without their voice boxes.

The actor stood before them and spoke. In his new-found voice, he told them that they, too, could speak. He told of his plans and, in a talk peppered with wisecracks, he urged them not to give up hope but to persevere and learn to speak again as he had.

He spoke for about 10 minutes in his deep, quiet tone and then had a long interview with newsmen. He showed no sign of tiring.

Gargan, who recently appeared again as an actor on television, playing the wordless role of a clown, plans to continue his work in the theater as an independent motion picture and television producer.

J. R. Boone, one time halfback with the Chicago Bears, is now football coach at Sanger, Calif., High School. He has a seven year record of 47 wins, 5 losses and 1 tie.

This is a HOUSE That Jack Built

He didn't do the job single-handed, by any means, but Jack A. Newport, manager of Wolf's New Home Department, was involved with this house—and dozens of others—from the first time the owner stopped at Wolf's to discuss his plans. Jack's department provided help with plans, specifications, financing, selection of contractor, inspection of construction, and the dozens of details involved.

The finished home contains all the materials specified at the outset—and the price for the completed job was the one agreed upon by contractor and owner right at the beginning.

The home is tailored-made for the family that owns it. It is distinctively and individually their. Why build rather than buy? That's why.

POLICE SHOWS ON TV CAN BE STEREOTYPED

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—You know how they do these television police shows—the camera showing the action and the urgent voice of the unseen narrator explaining what's going on.

Herewith, then, a personal dramatized account of a real-life, disillusioning incident:

(The setting is a newspaper office, full of cluttered desks, old coffee containers, clattering teletypes and reporters rushing in crying "scoop!") Theme music comes up and over, rising to a crescendo.

Narrator: The meet was set by a third party. A contact called—from a coin booth, of course—to say that Sgt. Steve Carella of the 87th Precinct had gone on the tightrope and had something to tell me.

ARRANGE MEETING

Carella, the smartest, toughest, bravest cop in the precinct. Undercover! This was news—and I wanted the story.

My name is Lowry. I'm a pusher (pencil).

We set the meet: 9:30 the next morning in a good place, a restaurant called Schrafft's on 51st between Fifth and Sixth. My contact said Carella was using his real name Robert Lansing and had taken an acting job in NBC's May 20 war drama "A Sound of Hunting." Sounded like a good cover.

At 9:30 on the dot I walked into the restaurant, cleverly disguised as a lady shopper. I sat down at a corner table and ordered coffee, black. My contact arrived, nervous. To allay suspicion we ordered breakfast—fruit juice, pan cakes, sausages. Our eyes never left the door. No Carella. The minutes ticked away.

By 9:45 it was certain something had happened. The contact made some telephone calls. Carella had left his hotel. By 10 we were sure: Carella was not going to show. Why? Had he decided not to talk? Had someone else decided he was not to talk?

JUST PLAIN TOUGH

We left and separated swiftly. I went back to the office—to wait. What had happened? After all Carella had never failed to break a case.

The call came at 10:30. It was Carella—he called himself Lansing, of course. "I couldn't find it," he said. "The restaurant, I was there at the corner of 51st and Sixth but I couldn't find Schrafft's. And it was drizzling too. Later I noticed the note said it was between Fifth and Sixth. So maybe we can set up something again. . . ."

Urges Swimming For High Schools

NEW YORK (AP)—High schools that don't include swimming instruction in their curricula are doing their students a great disservice—and sometimes a fatal one, Florence Chadwick, many times a conqueror of the English Channel, said today.

"Swimming should be taught all over the United States in high schools," she said. "A lot of people will say I'm prejudiced because of my love for the sport, but what good will it do these schools if they turn out honor students that could drown the next day because of their inability to conquer the water."

"It always seems to be the case that when a school building budget is cut, the first thing to go is the swimming pool, if one happens to be included in the plans," she added.

TV VIEWERS CAN BE HAPPY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The next seven days of television ought to make happy all the viewers who grumble when their favorite program is knocked out of the schedule to make room for a special show.

This will be the week to curl up with your favorite program—or a good book if you only like the specials.

There is one special—tonight. It is "The Andy Williams Show" on NBC (9:30-10:30 EDT) and it is interesting because Williams will head his own show on NBC next season. One of his guest-stars is singer Ann-Margret.

On Sunday there is NBC's broadcast of the golf "Tournament of Champions" from Las Vegas course (4:30-6 p.m.), and, at evening's end, the second part of "The World's Greatest Robbery" on the same network (10-11).

Garry Moore has Duke Ellington as his guest Tuesday (10-11 p.m.) Circle Theater on Wednesday.

A cop's life is hard enough. But when you're on the tightrope, brother, it can be pretty lonely. Particularly in a drizzle on the corner of 51st and Sixth.

Recommended weekend viewing:

Tonight—"Andy Williams Show," NBC, 9:30-10:30 (Eastern Daylight Time)—with Ann-Margret and Dick Van Dyke.

Saturday—Kentucky Derby, CBS, 5-5:45 p.m.

Sunday—"The Nation's Future," NBC, 6:30-7:30 p.m.—Discussion between astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., and Cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov.

The POWER of FAITH

In a New York hospital named for the site of Christ's final agony, devoted nuns—the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor—answer the biblical question, "am I my brother's keeper?"

For the past 62 years the House of Calvary has been a place where cancer victims, during their last weeks, find solace through one another and through the power of faith. Their faces betray an inner peace, an answer.

JAYNE AND HER "MUSCLE MAN" HUBBY SPLIT

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield had her first big fight with her husband Thursday, stormily told him she was going out shopping—but didn't tell him she was shopping for a divorce.

"I still don't believe she did it," said her stunned musician spouse, Mickey Hargitay, early today. He spent the night under the same roof with his bosomy wife.

That togetherness, unique even for Hollywood, led some observers to believe that the divorce won't take.

And Jayne's own words, breathlessly delivered, accented that belief.

"Our differences are really minor but maybe because they are the only ones we have ever had they seem bigger than they are," she said.

"I'm not different from any other married woman. I really believe in a happy marriage and Mickey and I have been deliciously happy. We hope we can work it out."

Her surprise divorce action was taken in Santa Monica Superior Court.

"I work it out," Hargitay first learned of the suit from newsmen.

"Jayne's out shopping. Why, we're waiting supper on her," said Hargitay—usually not the last one to know.

By supertime, Jayne indeed had come home, sneaked in a back door of her huge pink and white home.

Then she secluded herself in her bedroom and first called her press agent.

Then she summoned Hargitay, 33. He was both hurt and angry when he came out a few moments later.

"She won't say much. I guess she doesn't want to talk with me. I love her very much but she's making me madder than hell," he said.

Then the press agent ushered in a group of reporters and photographers.

TIGHT SLACKS
Before long Jayne, 28, appeared on an inside balcony of her house, which is decorated in early Mae Murray style.

She wore a gold lame slack outfit that looked as if it had been sprayed on that famed 40-22-35 frame. Each newsmen got a friendly handshake as she called each by name.

"We have had differences. We're not used to having them and I guess it comes as a big shock," she said.

"I'm no different from any other married woman. I really believe in a happy marriage and Mickey and I have been deliciously happy. We hope we can work it out."

Her surprise divorce action was taken in Santa Monica Superior Court.

FEAR RECORDS DISAPPEAR IN SENATE PROBE

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., voiced suspicions today that records are disappearing in an effort to handicap a Senate investigation of Texas financier Billie Sol Estes' relations with the agriculture department.

Mundt is the senior Republican member of the Senate Investigations subcommittee conducting the inquiry. He joined a mounting Republican chorus, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, demanding an all-out investigation.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., is looking into charges that Estes profited handsomely from associations with high Agriculture Department officials and others in Washington.

SPECTACULAR RISE

Estes, 37, Pecos, Tex., Democrat who had a spectacular rise to wealth, is under indictment on charges of obtaining millions in mortgages on nonexistent fertilizer storage tanks.

"I have a sneaking feeling that some records are beginning to disappear, and will be hard for the investigators to find," Mundt said. Mundt declined to discuss the basis for his suspicions or to say who he thought might be spiriting records out of files.

McClellan has announced only that he had ordered the present preliminary investigation to determine whether the evidence would justify hearings by his subcommittee.

McClellan is reported convinced the evidence will justify public hearings—when he is sure his investigators have the material at hand and ready for use.

He disclosed Thursday another expansion of the investigating staff with the recruitment of four more accountants and investigators to join the half dozen or so already known to be assigned here and Texas, where Estes has his base.

65-Year-Old Peace Corps Trainee Ousted; Complains About Training Program

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Peace Corps official says the training program for overseas duty is not designed to turn out Tarzans or Janes—despite the charge of a 65-year-old widow that she was ousted for refusing to do pushups and run a mile before breakfast.

Janie Fletcher, of Panhandle, Tex., said the Peace Corps ran her ragged at its training camp in Arecibo, Puerto Rico, and finally dropped her from a group bound for duty in Brazil because she objected to the physical training program.

The Peace Corps denied Mrs. Fletcher was pressed to undertake physical training beyond her ability.

Other reasons
"Obviously a woman of her years would not be expected to perform like the younger people," Timothy J. Adams, acting chief of public information, said Thursday night.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver said Mrs. Fletcher's dismissal was not due to her inability to take part in physical conditioning.

"There were other reasons and these were discussed with her," he said. "One of them was that of all candidates for Brazil she had the lowest language facility."

Mrs. Fletcher told a different story—and she told it in a letter to her senator, John G. Tower, R-Tex. She said she was dropped because "the staff at the camp disliked me because I objected to the training. There could have been no other reason."

Adams said the Fletcher matter "is closed as far as we're concerned." But Tower demanded an investigation before the Senate votes on the corps $63.75-million budget.

Mrs. Fletcher said younger Peace Corps volunteers at the Puerto Rico camp stayed up until the wee hours and did much drinking. She said she was "cursed and shoved beyond my strength" in a program that "would do justice to any army training."

Shriver said he couldn't imagine anyone in the training camp cursing the Texas schoolteacher. He said night discussion groups were allowed to drink beer, but there was no moral laxity.

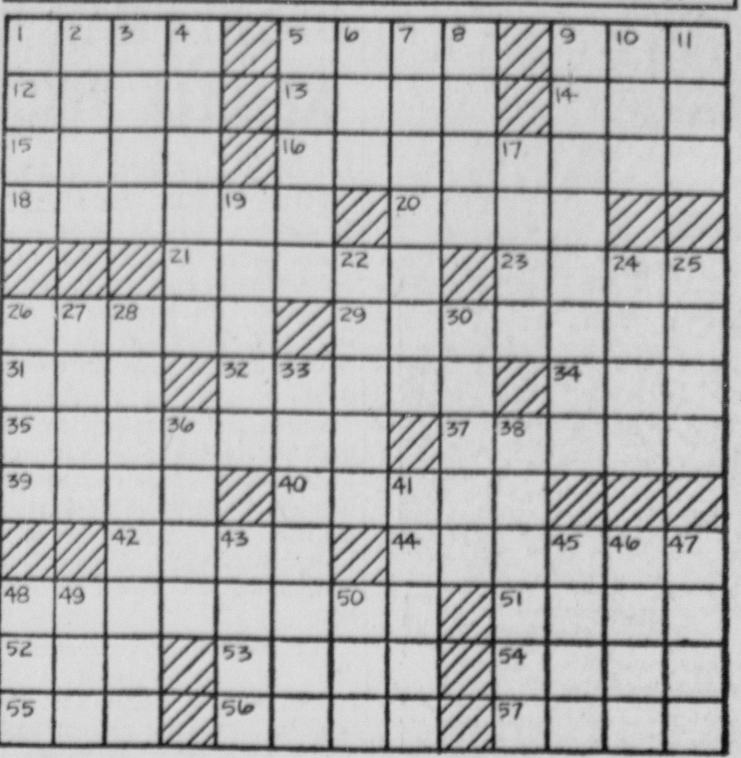

"Based on merit"
He said Peace Corps selections are based on merit, not politics, race, religion or age. "We have said from the beginning that Peace Corps standards would be high," Shriver said. "They have to be and we don't intend to relax them because of political pressure."

Adams said Mrs. Fletcher was one of eight trainees dropped for various reasons from the Brazil-bound group.

"Every Peace Corps applicant is invited to training with the understanding that there will be no final selection for overseas assignment until it is over," he said.

He said three people over 60 successfully completed the training program in Puerto Rico without complaint and now are overseas.

Two Girls See Their Sister Die

ELLIOTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Two Perry County girls saw their 3-year-old sister struck and killed by a car Thursday as she crossed Route 74 near her home in Elliottsburg R. 1.

State police identified the victim as Jody Sue Reisinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Reisinger.

The youngster darted between two parked cars into the path of the oncoming vehicle, just seconds after the other two girls already had crossed the highway.

The three were on their way home for dinner, police said.

Officers identified the driver of the car as Mrs. Shirley A. Seiders, 23, of New Bloomfield.

Hanover's School Tax Up 5 Mills

The budget and tax rate of the Hanover School District, tentatively adopted April 4, were given formal approval by the board of school directors at a special meeting Wednesday night.

The $1,388,579 budget is based on a real estate tax rate of 37 mills, a one per cent wage and profits tax, a $10 per capita levy and a one per cent real estate transfer tax.

The only change from the present tax rate was the addition of five mills to the real estate levy, which has been 32 mills in the current fiscal year.

The school directors anticipate receipts of $467,000 from the real estate tax, an increase of $69,367 over the current year; $95,000 from the per capita tax; $195,000 from the wage and profits tax and $22,000 from the real estate transfer tax.

NBA UNDECIDED ON WARRIORS

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association board of directors, stumped for 13 hours Thursday on a request to move the Philadelphia Warriors to San Francisco, will try to resolve their difficulties again today.

Although none of the directors nor league president Maurice Podoloff would comment, one of the principal bones of contention appeared to be:

OPPOSED TO PLAN

Directors representing New York, Boston and Syracuse are known to be opposed to any plan which would leave Philadelphia without an NBA team. They hold enough votes to block the proposed sale and transfer of the Warriors to San Francisco.

Philadelphia owner Eddie Gottlieb asked the directors to approve the sale—including superstar Wilt Chamberlain—to a San Francisco group headed by Bernard Solomon. The sale price is reported to be $850,000.

Gottlieb has made bids to purchase the present Chicago, Detroit or Syracuse franchises and move them to Philadelphia, to replace the Warriors. At least Syracuse rejected the offer.

Right-hander Dave Busby of the York White Roses has begun to flash some of the effectiveness which won him 21 games at Waterloo last year.

Busby, who dropped his first game with the White Roses, came back Thursday night to pitch a five-hit, 8-3 victory over Williamsport in the opener of a double-header. He struck out five batters.

The Grays bounced back to win the nightcap 6-5 to remain a half game behind first-place Elmira which dropped a 3-2 contest to Charleston. In the only other game Binghamton defeated Springfield 7-5, Charleston's victory left the Indians only a half game out of first, while Williamsport and Charleston are both only a half game out of first, Charleston holds second place by 25 percentage points.

5-RUN INNING

York's big inning in the opener was the sixth when the White Roses scored five runs, four of them unearned. Busby aided his own cause in the inning with a two-run single. Bernie Belan (0-2) was the loser.

In the nightcap the Grays broke a 5-5 tie in the eighth when John Weghorn, who was hitting a weak .056 going into the game, drove in the winning run with a single. Elmira right-hander Bob Plem-

Financial Empire Of Boy Wonder Of Texas Tumbles And He Faces Many Charges

By ROBERT E. FORD
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Billie Sol Estes said last year he was worth $50 million. Today his financial empire has collapsed and criminal and civil charges mount.

National finance companies, the federal government and plain dirt farmers in Texas are trying to recover from a series of jolts handed them by the 37-year-old man who gained the title of "boy wonder of West Texas agriculture."

Investigations continue along four general lines—his dealings as the world's greatest distributor of anhydrous ammonia fertilizer and tanks for the substance, cotton allotments on lands he controlled, his relationship with Department of Agriculture and other federal officials, and his vast grain storage operations.

8 INDICTMENTS

A congressional investigation is under way. A federal grand jury already has indicted him for fraud. Eight criminal indictments for felonious theft have been returned against him by a grand jury in his hometown of Pecos, Tex. Another grand jury at Amarillo, Tex., is expected to receive new evidence soon. Scores have filed suits totaling millions, some trying to obtain money from Estes, others trying to voice contracts with him.

His entire financial affairs are in the hands of a receiver who is being required to post bond of $10 million.

The Estes empire began wobbling when a group of lending companies called him to a super-secret meeting in Dallas. His empire crashed three days later when he was jailed under federal fraud charges. Lending companies claimed he bilked them of $24 million. Estes himself said he owed $32 million and had assets of $20 million.

WAS CHURCH ELDER

Estes, a Church of Christ elder and minister, has issued no defense. He has simply remained silent on the basic issues of the case.

The man who says he grew up in moderate circumstances on a Texas farm and made his first million before he was 30, took the original blows cheerfully.

"I've felt better in the last week than I ever have in my life," he said. "I've always felt that if a man had five real friends he would be real lucky. I've been real lucky."

The original pin which burst the vast financial bubble involved storage tanks for the fertilizer. Mortgages were found on record totaling $34.5 million for 33,500 tanks in 11 West Texas counties. Only a few hundred such tanks are needed in the area. The FBI in charges against Estes and three officials of a manufacturing firm, claims most of the tanks don't exist.

PROBE SPREADS

The probe spread. Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, held six courts of inquiry. One of many points covered involved possible improper influence by Estes with Agriculture Department employees.

William E. Morris, an Agriculture Department employee, was fired because he failed to make himself available to department investigators looking into allegations. Estes accompanied several officials on shopping tours in Dallas for expensive clothing. Morris' wife quit her job as part-time secretary to Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla. Emery E. Jacobs, deputy administrator of the agricultural Winning all three doubles matches proves to be the deciding factor as the Gettysburg College tennis team rolled to its third straight victory of the season, dumping Western Maryland 6-3 here Thursday afternoon.

Ask Hour Parking In Hanover Square

A recommendation to restore one-hour meters in most of the parking spaces on Center Square in Hanover was handed to borough council Wednesday night by the organization of Mid-Town Merchants.

Franklin Leinhardt, secretary of the merchants' group, said the businessmen urge the limit on parking meters, with the exception of possibly eight, be changed from one-half to one hour, pointing out the present limitation is "too brief a time for shoppers touring the central business district."

The merchants' recommendation suggested that about eight meters be kept on a one-half hour or 15-minute schedule for the convenience of persons making hasty calls in the business district.

CENTENNIAL TYPE UNIFORM

The new uniform, which can be seen modeled by Ronald Deitch in a colored photograph displayed in Rea and Derick's window in Lincoln Square, is designed to give a centennial or Civil War period appearance to the nearly 100 musicians and the band front. A grey officer style hat with the initials GHS on a leaf scroll sets off the dark blue jacket with red trim and gold buttons. Grey trousers and white shoes complete the uniform. Through the use of a maroon and white stripe on the trousers, it will be possible to tie them in with the present maroon band coats to make a "new look" for the uniform which will be used for football games and band appearances not of a patriotic nature.

AMISH LEADER SAYS PEOPLE THINK OF MOVE TO AUSTRALIA

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—The leader of the Amish community near this Western Pennsylvania town says the group is thinking about moving to Australia to escape what he calls "religious persecution" in the United States.

Amish Bishop Andy M. Byler of nearby New Wilmington said Thursday the Amish have been invited to resettle in Australia along with some Ohio Amish who recently moved to Canada because of a dispute over compulsory public school education.

The Amish have repeatedly clashed with the government over compulsory public education and the payment of social security taxes.

The "old order" Amish claim that social security is a form of insurance, and they oppose insurance on grounds the Bible teaches each household to provide for its own.

TRAVEL FARE
Byler said it wouldn't be easy for the Amish to leave the New Wilmington area where they have been settled for a century, but he said they would leave unless the government exempts them from paying social security taxes.

"We're looking for a place to go where we can escape religious persecution," Byler said, "and we'd travel a good distance to practice our beliefs."

The Internal Revenue Service recently seized three horses from an Amish couple who failed to pay social security. The government also has filed liens against 76 other Amish delinquent in social security payments.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Y. Byler, the New Wilmington couple whose horses were seized, are suing the government for compensation and for exemption from future social security levies.

Deputy Secretary Has Heart Attack
HARRISBURG (AP)—John T. Garvey, deputy secretary of the State Labor and Industry Department, remained in fair condition at Polyclinic Hospital today after suffering a mild heart attack at his home.

Department aides said Thursday Garvey was stricken last Sunday, just six days after he had returned to work following a similar seizure March 30.

Two Cities Will Get Tourist Agency
HARRISBURG (AP)—Dauphin County Court cleared the way Thursday for the start of an all-out promotion campaign to attract tourists to the Harrisburg-Hershey area.

Judge R. Dixon Herman approved the organization of a non-profit corporation to be known as the Harrisburg-Hershey Area Tourist Promotion Agency.

The agency, chartered to "stimulate the volume of tourist, visitor and vacation business in Dauphin County," will operate on funds matched by the tourist division of the state commerce department.

HAVE COTTONS—WILL TRAVEL. The ultimate success of a travel wardrobe rests on its suitability and indestructibility—having a thing to wear and having it in wearable condition.

The kinds of clothes needed depend on whether stopovers will be resorts or cosmopolitan cities or both. The key to fresh looks is carefree fabrics. Moreover such materials pare down the number of outfits and accessories required. And she who travels light is free of the care of piles of clothes and luggage.

As experienced travelers testify, cottons make ideal trippers. They are cool and look cool. Owing to blends and finishes, they shed

Defends Title Against Marquez

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—World bantamweight champion Eder Jofre, the knockout puncher from Sao Paulo, Brazil, defends his title tonight against underdog challenger Herman Marquez.

The 26-year-old South American is a 3-1 favorite to turn back the bid of the 28-year-old longshoreman from Stockton, Calif., in 15 rounds — or less — at the Cow Palace.

The champion never has been defeated. His record is 41 victories, including 31 knockouts, in 44 fights. Three ended even. He won a clear title Jan. 18 in Sao Paulo by stopping Ireland's Johnny Caldwell.

Marquez never has been stopped in compiling a 20-7-1 record. He won the California title June 12 by stopping Ronnie Perez, who has been one of Jofre's sparring partners.

Starting 11:30 p.m., EST, the fight will have neither radio nor television coverage.

spots and wrinkles. Most respond to a quick sudsing and many drip-dry.

Practicality aside, new cottons are handsome and diversified. All the fashion shades are represented. Textures range from rustic homespun to formal chiffons. Purely as a sample, here is a city-resort cotton wardrobe for a two-week junket:

To wear enroute and sight-seeing, a beige cotton-tweed suit, a navy homespun coat dress, a beige poplin rain cape; a day-evening costume, jacket and dress, of floral-printed cotton chiffon; a white lace dancing dress; for relaxed occasions, interchangeable separates of duck, denim or ticking in your favorite color scheme; for swimming, a Paisley suit and beach dress.

Any like wardrobe, with the addition of a warm coat and sweater, is ever-ready to meet every touring need. And in high style!

10-DAY ORDEAL AT SEA ENDS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A harrowing, 10-day ordeal at sea ended Thursday for the skipper of a converted World War II sub chaser and his 13-year-old daughter.

Jeff L. Hodges, 35, of San Jose, Calif., and his daughter, Sandra, were still aboard the 107-foot, wooden-hulled Pelican as it headed toward San Francisco, under tow by the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Taney.

Hodges left Gray's Harbor, Wash., in the old craft April 22, expecting to sail down the coast to San Francisco in about a week. But the Pelican, which hadn't been sailed for seven years, developed engine trouble and Hodges and his daughter drifted helplessly for almost 10 days.

They were located southwest of Monterey Bay, about 95 miles west of Pt. Sur after drifting some 200 miles. When found they were nearly out of food, because high wind had blown some overboard.

But the Coast Guard said both Hodges, an experienced seafarer, and Sandra were in good shape. They did not require medical attention and elected to stay aboard the Pelican, which Hodges plans to use as a cargo vessel.

The Houston Colts are the fifth team that first baseman Dick Gernert has played for in the past four years.
